The Violet Crown Trail (VCT) weaves through the canyons and creeks of Central Texas, connecting our communities with the wonders of nature. Once complete, the VCT will stretch 30 miles from the heart of Austin through the environmentally sensitive Barton Springs Edwards Aquifer Recharge Zone. Written in this landscape are natural and cultural stories that make this part of Texas special. Take the time to discover this heritage as you enjoy the VCT.